LUKE 2:14

Dear friends,

There is a phrase that we have aimed to accomplish while living in the seminary community, and that is to “be permanent in the temporary.” It reminds us of the following verses: “‘Today or tomorrow we will go to such and such a city and spend a year there and engage in business and make a profit.’ Yet you do not know what your life will be like tomorrow. You are just a vapor that appears for a little while and then vanishes away. Instead, you ought to say, ‘If the Lord wills, we will live and also do this or that.’” James 4:13-15. Change is a constant in all of our lives, and that’s something that military members and their families know all too well.

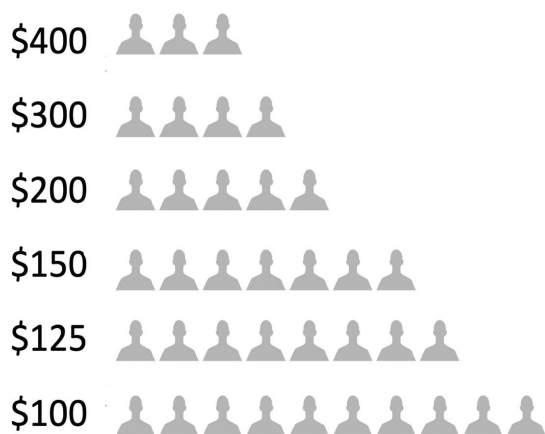

Our small group of newlywed couples is going well. We meet every Friday night for dinner, discussion, and fellowship. It’s a lot of fun! We had new neighbors move in during the month of July who we are building a relationship with. The Campbell family lives in the duplex joined next to ours. We have enjoyed becoming family with them over the last four months, and they have been just that—family for us. Despite the difficulties of planning to leave soon, we continue to laugh, encourage each other, ask hard questions, and pray for each other. The Lord has used this relationship to grow us, and I am grateful that they did not shy away from being part of our family during our time here in Wake Forest.

We are celebrating Tyler's last month of school here, and soon he will graduate with his pastoral ministry degree from Southeastern Seminary. We are excited to begin traveling and meeting with all of you again. We are working to keep this momentum with partnership development, which will help us get to the field with Cadence as soon as the Lord provides the needed funds. Each month the Lord has continued to provide people with a passion for the military and a love for the gospel to join our team. We are grateful to the Lord for his faithfulness through you all! We have created a visual to help you understand our goal in the number of monthly partners necessary for us to be released to the field.

As we close this chapter at Southeastern, we are excited to fully step into the next chapter of travel and partnership development. We want to thank you for joining us along the way, but we aren't done yet. We are hoping to reach our goal and be on the field by the summer of 2021. With the end of the year approaching, we ask you to consider us and our calling with Cadence to share the gospel with military members for your year-end donations. Join with us in laboring together for the Great Commission.

Gratefully,

Tyler and Jacqueline
