AN UPDATE FROM TIM AND REBECCA HAWKINS

Now in convenient bullet-point format!

- We've left the U.K. after 21 years of ministry to the military communities of RAF Lakenheath and RAF Mildenhall

We loved our time in England. It was a home to our family and a place where we grew an amazing spiritual family in the military community. We desire to leverage that experience—the great, the difficult, and even the mundane—and use it for a new sort of ministry.

- We are transitioning to a new role with Cadence International in Germany

Our new assignment in Germany will be the roles of Europe Field Leader (Tim) and Assistant Field Leader (Rebecca). In these new roles, we will oversee and coordinate the various ministries of Cadence International scattered around Europe. We will be serving fellow Cadence missionaries, helping them—and their ministries—to thrive.

- We're currently on home assignment in the U.S. until May 4

A “home assignment” is when missionaries return to their sending countries and, ironically, often have to figure out how to live without a home. Since landing in Los Angeles in mid-September, we have traveled over 5,000 miles and have had visits with friends and family in California, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Kansas, Missouri, and Michigan. We made it to Pensacola, Florida on November 1 and will be based here until the first of February. With COVID-19 currently raging across the country, we're holding our plans loosely, but we hope to hit the eastern and midwestern states on our way back to Michigan and see many more of you.

- What we need to do while in the States

One of our big jobs over the next few months is partnership development. To many, that may just sound like a fancy way to say “fundraise.” We genuinely believe this is a biblical approach for the body of Christ, a way to share their gifts and resources to take the gospel to a world that desperately needs Jesus. We need prayer and have financial needs, but what we really want is people who see themselves as a vital part of our team.

Our time between assignments also allows us to focus on the administrative jobs that require space and focus that can be hard to come by in regular life. A big priority for us is a makeover of how we track and communicate with people—everything from maintaining contact lists to getting information out to people and staying in touch.

• A bit of good news

There is more good stuff to share than we can put in this newsletter, but here are a couple of pertinent items. First, much of our “move to another country and set up a new house and ministry” costs are already met. Our household goods have been moved to Germany, and we have secured a house for us to live in. This means we can focus on our monthly budget needs, rather than a large start-up fund.

Second, we have a long way to go, but we have been really encouraged by our initial support raising efforts. We have been blown away by your generosity and commitment to the work of the kingdom.

• What we could use from you.

If you haven’t done it recently, please send us your up-to-date contact information. We’re creating a centralized communication hub and need to have a good email address and mailing address from you to make it effective.

If you’re not already a financial supporter we’d like you to consider it, pray about it, and contact us if you’d like more information.

Gratefully,
Tim and Rebecca
