DECEMBER 2020

SERVING WITH CADENCE INTERNATIONAL

Cadence.org/Wolden

How can we describe the year 2020 without writing a novel? Let's do it by sharing a bunch of pictures.

Although our family was weary from leading the hospitality house at JBLM, our transition to Fort Hood, Texas back in late February has been rejuvenating. God provided a house to rent, a new homeschool community, and lots of opportunities to minister to soldiers alongside our Cadence team. Every Thursday we gather at the Soldiers Hospitality House for home-cooked meals, Bible study, and fun. Several times a month, we meet one-on-one with soldiers, as well as taking them on activities. Another highlight is having Men's Group in our home each Tuesday. Cindy makes us dinner, after which we dig into God's Word and prayer.

We are empowered to live and minister here by praying people and financial supporters. Even though 2020 has been a crazy up-and-down year, our monthly support has remained steady at 85–90%. In addition to praying for our family and our ministry, could you also pray for our support? If anyone feels led to donate a one-time gift or join our monthly team, go to Cadence.org/Wolden.

May God richly bless you as you close out 2020 and may you find resolve heading into this coming year. May we all cling to our only hope found in God's grace through Jesus.

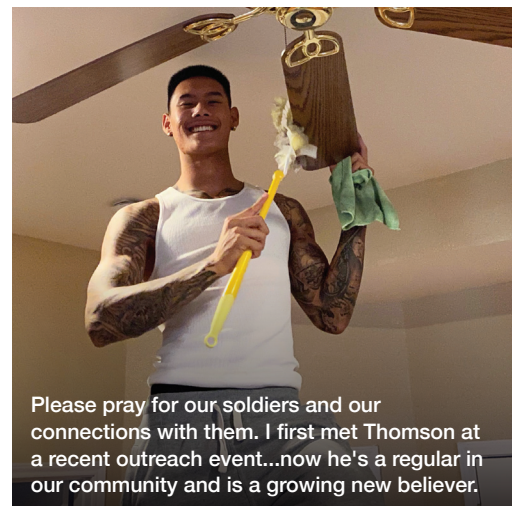

Gratefully,
Jason and Cindy Wolden

Our Cadence team ladies serving food at our Thursday Bible study.

Josiah fits in well with the soldiers who treat him like a little bro. This young man also just deployed.

Please pray for our soldiers and our connections with them. I first met Thomson at a recent outreach event...now he's a regular in our community and is a growing new believer.

Thank you for praying for our ministry to soldiers. These young men are disciples who want to grow.

This young soldier was in our youth group back in Japan. Although she just got here to Fort Hood, she just left for her first deployment.

Thank you for praying for our family. Our kids do miss Washington, but they also love being here in Texas.

This is a typical Sunday lunch outing after Chapel.

We are so proud of Josiah. Not only is he growing in character and joining us in ministry to soldiers but he's also becoming quite the athlete!

Cindy with Ariel (who just got baptized) and Marlina (who was also with us at JBLM).

We've been able to lead many outings with soldiers.

We had a blast at this fall's singles retreat.
