Hola, one last time from España!

As many of you know, my time in Spain ends on July 14, 2025. Thank you so much for riding this roller coaster with me as I have followed the Lord's call on my life to continue to serve in Spain. It would not have been possible without your sincere prayers, your sensitivity to the Lord's call, and your generous giving. After serving as a limited-term missionary with Cadence International, I can confidently say that we do indeed serve a God who can do abundantly more than all we can ask or even think or imagine. If you asked 12-year-old Tori where I thought I would be when I was 25, I could not have even dreamed of getting to do half of what I have done over the past three years.

The Lord has graciously given me so many opportunities to spread my wings and thrive as I brought the gospel to sailors in Rota, Spain. He has also been so gracious in picking me up when my attempts to be bold have failed miserably. During my time here alongside the Blosers and Anna Tamblyn, we have held 282 events and had 4,000 sailors pass through the house! All glory be to Christ! God provided not only the financial support to hold these events but also the emotional stability needed to engage people with Christ's love.

Three years is a long time, and I would be lying if I said my heart wasn't tired of endless goodbyes, living in another culture, and being far from family. BUT again, I will say that the Lord was faithful in EVERY moment. I came to Spain with big dreams for nine months of meeting military folks, sharing Jesus, and traveling Europe a bit. The Lord used this experience to grow me into a leader who is passionate about creating spaces for people to interact with the living God and experience what the Christian community can and should be. As my time ends and the thought of civilian life sounds wonderfully boring, I am confident the Lord will continue to provide for the next adventure.

Although my assignment ends in July, my Cadence work account will not be closed until September 30 to allow for all of my final expenses to be processed. Any automatic withdrawals will continue to be taken until then unless you go in manually and cancel. Any remaining balance will be kept in my account in case the Lord calls me back into ministry with Cadence during the next year. If you would like to begin financially supporting another Cadence missionary or ministry, please visit Cadence.org and click on Give or contact Donor Services at 303.762.1400 or email Donors@Cadence.org. If you are interested in directly supporting the ministry in Rota, Spain, you can give online by going to this link or scan the QR code below: Cadence.org/ministry/victory-villa-hospitality-house/

I am unsure what is next, but I am confident that the Lord goes before me, just as He will continue to work in Spain after I leave. God may call me back into ministry. I would be lying if I said the military and their kids hadn't stolen my heart. The Blockers have often called Victory Villa a "home away from home" for sailors here in Spain, and it will also always be mine. Thank you again for making all that I have been able to accomplish possible. The Lord used your prayers and gifts in powerful ways.

Soli deo gloria! (Glory to God Alone!)
