2 THESSALONIANS 3:5

Dear Faithful Support Team,

Greetings from what has turned out to be a very cold and snowy winter here in Fairbanks. We broke the record for the longest number of days of sub-zero temperatures. I thought our thermometer was stuck at -40° ! It is warming up now, so that helps a lot. Plus, we are up to four hours and 53 minutes of daylight today. That is what helps the most—light is amazing!

I wanted to write a note to you all to accompany the letter from Cadence. Many of you have not received a letter from me in some time, and yet you have remained faithful in your giving and praying. Thank you so very much. (I wish you were able to come for a visit—that would be fun!). Many of you have been with us from the beginning, and most of you have been with us for many years now. Any ministry that has taken place in these past 43 years has been because of God’s gracious gift through your faithful prayers. Your reward awaits you.

Cadence has been very patient with me and given me the time I have needed to figure out life as a single person and evaluate how I want to refocus the ministry here with these wonderful ladies at Fort Wainwright. I am finishing up a six-month sabbatical, in which I’ve done just that. As I have been talking with mission leadership, it has become clear that I need to make some changes. I will no longer have weekly gatherings at the house as Ken and I did. I still love to host gatherings for various occasions, but I will not be doing it on a weekly basis. I enjoy teaching and will continue to do so with the women of the chapel, as well as with wives and single soldiers. I also have a desire to develop and write a series of Bible studies that I have been working on.

Our last Bible study of December was a special Christmas party. These are the brave souls that ventured out in sub zero weather. We had a wonderful warm time of fellowship together.

Moving to Ambassador status will give me a more flexible schedule and freedom to pursue these desires. Please be praying for me as I move into this next season where the Lord has me.

Our Bible Study ladies (PWOC) love to bless all of our new mothers with a Baby Sprinkle. We had 3 babies born in December. That makes a lot of "Aunties" to hold and love on those precious little ones!

I have been sending out updates through a platform called Epistle. I would love to add you to this email list. Epistle's system is very secure, and they require people to sign up themselves, rather than having me create a group list. As I do not have emails for many of you, please send me an email and let me know if you would like to receive my updates. I will send you a link to Epistle, and then you will need to respond to them and communicate that you'd like to receive my updates. This will be the easiest way for us to stay in touch. The Epistle also allows me to share photos, and it stores all my previous letters for those who want to catch up on past updates.

My heart is full of wonderful memories as I think of each one of you. May the Lord abundantly bless you every day for your faithfulness, generosity, and prayers!

I need to raise an additional $1,000 in monthly support to help cover ministry and living expenses. If you would like to become a monthly supporter or give an additional amount each month to help cover those costs, that would be greatly appreciated! You can do so by using the response slip below or you can scan the QR code to give online. Thank you!

For His Name's Sake and for His Glory,
